FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (Denver, CO)

Dear Emerging Leaders,

The Emerging Leaders of Gaming™ will be launching a quarterly newsletter in the coming months. We hope this newsletter will help everyone stay connected as a community and informed on exciting things happening with our fellow leaders. We plan to cover topics relating to the younger demographic of new gamers, upcoming conferences and events, and recent and future trends in the gaming industry.

Most importantly, we want to highlight your successes and achievements! If you would like to be featured in a future newsletter, please submit a short description of any recent promotions or accomplishments you have done in your field of work. Plus, if you want to submit an article for the newsletter, contact us! We are here to help increase your profile and tell your story.

This organization is always open to growth and improvement. If you have ideas for future Emerging Leaders events please contact us, as we would appreciate you sharing them.
